

Our intention is to have in-person meetings going forward. For the time being, we will hold the City Committee Meetings, Plan Commission, Council and most others at the Community Room at 933 Michigan Avenue. This in-person location will meet the legal requirement for our open meetings.

We will have a virtual option available, but the technology for the hybrid style meeting may not be reliable all of the time.

For the duration of this agenda item, the Commission brainstormed persons/organizations in our community who are a stakeholder in any one topic area that will make up the City's Aging Plan (i.e., housing, transportation, outdoor spaces & buildings, social participation, respect & social inclusion, work & civic engagement, communication & information, and community & health services).

Associate Planner/Zoning Administrator Kuhn instructed the Commission that he will work to hold meetings with these identified stakeholders over the next few months, with takeaways from these meetings occurring at the next Commission meeting.

MEMORANDUM

To: Age-Friendly Commission

From: Adam Kuhn, AICP
Associate Planner / Zoning Administrator

Date: June 24, 2024

RE: Community Needs Assessment

-----

Background: During our last meeting, we discussed the planning process that will take us to the adoption of the City's Aging Plan. For 2024, priority work of the Commission will be to conduct a community needs assessment that gauges public input as to how Stevens Point can be more 'livable' within each of the eight domains of livability (identified below).

As we kickstart the process of conducting a community needs assessment, the first step would be to conduct a community network analysis. This analysis is meant to gauge relevant stakeholders within Stevens Point and Portage County within each domain of livability. For reference, these domains of livability are the following:

- Housing;
- Outdoor spaces and buildings;
- Transportation;
- Communication and information;
- Civic participation and employment;
- Respect and social inclusion;
- Health services and community supports; and
- Social participation.

During our last meeting, the Commission created a list of local stakeholders whose work or advocacy directly impacts any one of the above domains of livability. As you can tell, there are stakeholders whose work impacts more than one of the above domains (e.g., Midstate Independent Living Choices being involved in housing matters, respect and social inclusion, and the health services domain). The purpose of the June 24th meeting is to discuss observations from the roughly three dozen individuals and organizations that I, along with some commissioners, had the opportunity to talk to over the last four months.

After discussing these key takeaways, we will begin planning for community-wide programming as we shift to the second phase of the public participatory phase of this planning project. For the meeting, please think of some types of community events that you would like us to conduct to help spread the word of our initiative (e.g., ice cream socials, public workshops, etc.).

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

The 8 Domains of Livability

The availability and quality of these community features impact the well-being of older adults — and help make communities more livable for people of all ages.

1. Outdoor Spaces and Buildings
2. Transportation
3. Housing
4. Social Participation
5. Respect and Social Inclusion
6. Work and Civic Engagement
7. Communication and Information
8. Community and Health Services

1. Outdoor Spaces and Buildings

People need public places to gather — indoors and out. Green spaces, seating and accessible buildings (elevators, zero-step entrances, staircases with railings) can be used and enjoyed by people of all ages.

2. Transportation

Driving shouldn't be the only way to get around. Pedestrians need sidewalks and safe, crossable streets. Dedicated bicycle lanes benefit nondrivers and drivers alike. Public transit options can range from the large-scale (trains, buses, light rail) to the small (taxis, shuttles or ride share services).

3. Housing

AARP surveys consistently find that the vast majority of older adults want to reside in their current home or community for as long as possible. Doing so is possible if a home is designed or modified for aging in place, or if a community has housing options that are suitable for differing incomes, ages and life stages.

4. Social Participation

Regardless of a person's age, loneliness is often as debilitating a health condition as having a chronic illness or disease. Sadness and isolation can be combated by having opportunities to socialize and the availability of accessible, affordable and fun social activities.

5. Respect and Social Inclusion

Everyone wants to feel valued. Intergenerational gatherings and activities are a great way for young and older people to learn from one another, honor what each has to offer and, at the same time, feel good about themselves.

6. Work and Civic Engagement

Why does work need to be an all or nothing experience? An age-friendly community encourages older people to be actively engaged in community life and has opportunities for residents to work for pay or volunteer their skills.

7. Communication and Information

We now communicate in ways few could have imagined a decade ago. Age-friendly communities recognize that information needs to be shared through a variety of methods since not everyone is tech-savvy, and not everyone has a smartphone or home-based access to the internet.

8. Community and Health Services

At some point, every person of every age gets hurt, becomes ill or simply needs some help. While it's important that assistance and care be available nearby, it's essential that residents are able to access and afford the services required.
